Report of the Board of Health

TO THE SELECTMEN OF NORWAY:

Gentlemen:—The Local Board of Health make the following report:

There has been reported to us twenty-one cases of measles and one case of scarlet fever, one of typhoid fever and one of tuberculosis.

At the present time there is an epidemic of whooping cough in the village but only a few of the cases have been reported. The law requires this disease to be reported and provides a penalty for failure of parent, guardian, or physician to do so.

The Board of Health are of the opinion that failure to report these cases is due to ignorance of the law, and hope that by calling the attention of the citizens of the town to this they will be prompt hereafter to report all cases.

Only a few nuisances have been reported and these have been abated without trouble.

DENNIS PIKE,
H. L. BARTLETT,
SIMEON HARRIMAN,

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND CITIZENS OF THE TOWN:

I herewith submit my fourth annual report as Superintendent of Schools. Some progressive measures have been undertaken during the past year, which I think will be of great benefit to the school organization and their beneficial effects felt throughout the town. Some of these changes are discussed elsewhere in this report.

The selecting of teachers each spring for the thirty-six positions in the two towns is a matter of some moment. I can frankly say, however, that this school year has developed less real complaints of teachers than any year since holding the office, as your superintendent. I often marvel at the large degree of success of the young woman who graduates from the high or normal school and efficiently takes up the work of teacher, disciplinarian and governess of a community of children, any one of a majority of whom is a problem and his conduct a nightmare to the parent. With such a teacher, who is willing and eager to plan and prepare her work, I am able to help her to so organize her school that she will be of value to herself, to the pupils and to the parents. The success of the teacher who will work is assured and reflected in the attitude of busy and contented pupils.

The second Wednesday of each month has been designated as visiting day, although visitors are always welcome in the schools. Patrons are urged to visit the schools that they may discover that the teacher, if she be a real teacher, has the welfare of the pupils at heart, and that the interests of the parent and teacher are common.

CONSOLIDATION

At the beginning of the winter term it was decided to be advisable to transport the Pike's hill pupils to the village. This decision was based upon the fact that there had been an enrollment of but seven for the fall term with an average attendance of six. Many of the pupils of this locality having already come to village grades of their own accord. The school was, however, in session for the first week of the winter term with an attendance of three, the other four being out because of illness. Consequently, the school was closed and transportation began the second week.

All the pupils above the fifth grade at the Lake school are now being transported to the village. This plan places the work of the school within the ability of one teacher, which it has not been before, there being too many pupils, subjects and grades. I feel now that the work at this school is progressing satisfactorily, and that the pupils have the necessary individual attention.

I hope it will not seem to be out of place to mention at this time what seems to me to be an ideal plan for consolidation. I know many will not agree with me, as they would prefer to continue in the old way rather than try the untried. This plan would be to construct a modern three room building somewhere near Swift's Corner that we might have primary, intermediate and grammar grade rooms with special teachers for these grades. Transport to this school the pupils from Pierce, Chapel, Noble's Corner and possibly from the Center. I think that the long ride that this would make necessary for some would not be an objection provided modern school conveyances were used. I know that the results obtained would soon justify the arrangement. It would be possible to do good work in such a school in music and drawing under the supervision of the village teacher.

I am advancing this idea as I am anxious that the rural school should not be inferior in any respect to the village schools. It is quite evident that a teacher with three grades to teach can get better results, than, as is sometimes the case, with the nine grades. I have discovered that a majority of the pupils in the rural schools are more alert to take advantage of new ideas and methods than the village pupils, the latter accepting everything as they do the sunlight—as being inevitable. At its best, the one room rural school, with its small classes and many grades, is without those most desirable qualities of the larger, better graded school in that it lacks: School spirit; class spirit and rivalry; class competition in subjects; a nicer grading; all of which go to make for better scholarship, better attendance, and better training. At present, the whole national trend in school work is for more money for better trained teachers, better equipment and better roads for the consolidated school. We should not educate the boys and girls away from the country but for it.

REPAIRS

Quite extensive repairs have been undertaken and completed during the last year. When it becomes necessary to open a school house that has not been used for years, it takes for its repair, funds not figured on when the recommendations were estimated for the year by the school board. Another unlooked for repair became necessary during the year. The chimneys at all the schools were inspected and necessary repairs made. The foundations at some of the school-houses had to be repaired. Floors have been laid in some buildings where, before repairing, it was difficult to keep the room sufficiently warm without a wasteful use of fuel. The Crockett Ridge schoolhouse has been put in first class condition. The building is now a credit to the town, which it was not before.

During the next year it will be necessary to shingle the academy building and lay some floors in the high school recitation rooms. To improve sanitary conditions in some of the rural schools it will be necessary to make a few repairs. Blackboards will be installed at some schools where they are badly needed. It is very desirable to install some new desks at the high school.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

The immediate recognition and support accorded the introduction of this course into our high school last spring was gratifying. Although not quite three terms old, I feel that the success of this course to date justifies its reception. Heretofore our high school has not for many, been wholly adequate, in that it was not giving the kind of training needed by the large majority of its pupils. I refer to those who cannot go to college, and these comprise about eighty per cent. of the school. The aim of this course is to train these pupils to do well, some specific, practical thing, that they may be prepared, upon graduating, to render some definite service for which there is a demand. That this course has so far been so successful, shows that it possesses unusual merit and justifies its own existence.

In my article written for the Advertiser last June, at the request of the school board, inviting criticism and any possible objections to the introduction of the commercial course in our high school, we received only most favorable comment. Consequently the department was equipped and this year the recommendations for the raising of funds for school purposes include estimates for the support of this department. A loan of the eight typewriters used last spring term was obtained from the different companies without cost to the town. Bills were contracted for machines at the beginning of the fall term and made payable March 15th, 1915.

Students have purchased their own shorthand texts (as they usually prefer to do in shorthand classes) note books and typewriting paper. These supplies were billed directly to me and my personal checks have been sent in payment for same as soon as the supply was sold. In this way it became unnecessary to mix these accounts with those of the town. I make this explanation that there may be no misunderstanding as to the amount of the refund by me as seen in the committee's report.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Our science department has been somewhat rearranged, that it may better serve those of scientific turn of mind. Although we cannot claim that this course is an agricultural course, we do claim that it contains the essential elements of agriculture. It is a pitiable fact that we have not the room to permit further expansion along this line of work. It is a checker-board move now to so arrange the recitation schedule, that laboratory work and recitations by the five teachers may go on in the two large and three very small recitation rooms (one of these being the laboratory) without some conflict and much commotion. To verify the above statement, citizens are invited to visit the school and see for themselves.

The science course is planned to present the following subjects which contain agricultural application. The general science course of the first year is required of all except college preparatory students. Such students having learned the nature of the sciences know whether or not they desire to take the science or commercial course. The first half of the second year is to contain Zoology, the study of living beings, that the future farmer may better understand animal life, stock breeding and feeding. The last half year will be devoted to the study of Botany for a better understanding of plant life. Chemistry in the third year acquaints the pupil with composition and methods of chemical analysis, developing an understanding and ability to discover and do these very necessary things, required of a successful farmer. In the fourth year the Physics course teaches the elements and nature of machinery, electricity, heat and light. The school does not try to make these young people masters of these sciences, but tries to teach that, by which they may know these essential facts as related to country life. Those taking this course who are to become teachers are better able to interest their pupils and supplement their subjects with useful knowledge.

I am printing elsewhere in this report an outline of the course of study, showing the subjects in the different courses. I hope that this report may contain some facts and information that may lead to an even better understanding between the citizens, teachers, school board and Superintendent, that our interests for continued progress may be greater each year.

Respectfully submitted,

TRUE C. MORRILL, Superintendent of Schools.

The common school year is as above except that the fall term begins one week later and the spring term ends one week earlier.

It has become necessary to rule that unless beginners enter the Primary grade on or before the middle of the fall term, they will not be admitted until the beginning of the next fall term.

Each year some member of the school committee is elected to decide on the one or no session signal. William F. Jones holds that position this year.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC AND DRAWING.

TO THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS:

In submitting this second annual report to you, I can safely say that the work in both music and drawing is even more satisfactory than last year.

The sand table work in the primary grades has proved a great success. The children have been eager to cut and model the little villages as they have studied and read about them.

In the grammar grades more attention has been given to the relation of color. The children have mixed their own colors and painted them in their proper places on a scale. The usual drill in printing and free hand sketching has also been given.

In the eighth grade a beginner's study of perspective has been taken up successfully. Besides giving the pupils a correct view of a vanishing object or landscape, it is giving them a means of correcting their free hand drawings.

The ninth grade have designed some very interesting stencils which at Christmas time were used for decorating table runners, pillow covers, etc. This term they have started an elementary study of interior decoration which should prove of future value to them.

The High School chorus has advanced so far as to be able to sing some difficult classical music. A glee club has been organized for the High School girls and has been enthusiastically approved by them. They are singing secular songs that have been sung by the Radcliffe and Smith college glee clubs.

The grammar and primary grades are being given the required and necessary drill in sight reading, one, two, and three part music, and songs appropriate to the different classes at different seasons of the year.

In the fall, at the Teachers' Convention in Portland, a Western Maine High School chorus gave an unusually fine concert in City Hall. A limited number of pupils was taken from every High School in Western Maine, and drilled on specified selections for a month by their supervisors. Six pupils were sent from Norway High School, their expenses being paid by the State. The purpose of this chorus was to give the public a better idea of High School music, and to create an active interest. The plan has met with such success as to become an annual event.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNA MARY MEALAND, Supervisor of Drawing and Music.

There was due Jan. 30, 1915, from F. E. DeCoster, collector:

On taxes of 1906.....	$ 7 07

From Chas. H. Pike, collector:

On taxes of 1913	$ 21 85
1914	148 01
		$169 86

There is due from the two collectors.....$261 19

We feel that credit should again be given Mr. Pike, collector, for the showing he has made this year in collecting taxes.

It has been a hard year to collect, still the amount due from him this year is smaller than for many years.

Agreeable to the vote of the town last March the Assessors have been over the town and made a re-valuation of the real estate.

There has been no great change made in the valuation except in a few instances, and those in our judgment warranted it.

We have endeavored to equalize the value of the property as far as possible so as to do no one an injustice.

We have made an increase in valuation of about $65,000.00. In some cases we have reduced the valuation where we thought they were overvalued in comparison with their neighbors.

The assessors feel that the town should not allow more than ten years to pass without a re-valuation as the change in value in that time is enough to warrant one.

Balance against farm.....	$556	41

We feel that Mr. and Mrs. Thurston have taken a very keen interest in the management of the farm and the welfare of the inmates and have tried very hard to make the farm a success the past year.

We think that Mrs. Thurston should be especially commended for the interest she has taken in the affairs of the farm, and the way she has kept the house, as it is as clean and neat as we have ever seen it and the inmates look clean and well cared for.

It was understood last spring that the bills were practically all paid, but we afterward found we were owing about two hundred dollars on last year's bills which has been paid out of this year's income and therefore makes the balance against the farm that much more this year.

We had some trouble the first of the year in finding a place for Mrs. Jordan where she was contented. We finally got her boarded with Mrs. S. G. Richardson where she seems happy and contented and is receiving the best of care. We are paying $14.00 per ~~week~~ month for board and care and furnish Mrs. Jordan with two cords of wood for the winter. As she is a soldier's widow and can not be taken to the farm we feel that this is the best we can do.

This year we had to send the $798.00 that we appropriated to the State and the bills for work and supplies on the State road were all to be paid by the State, and we were told to expend $1,436.40 on the road.

We were careful to keep inside of that amount but when the last bills were sent to the State they took out $43.45 for engineering and inspecting, which made the overdraft $43.42.
